The BLM's decision to stop all new solar development is untimely and ill considered.

We are looking at a extinction event occurring due to global warming. The scientific estimates are that we will kill 95% of all life on Earth. The conservative estimate is that we have less than 10 years to act. The Federal Governments own reports show that land in the western US is going to experience massive drought that will kill most existing plants and animals in the western deserts.

The BLM's politically driven decision to stop clean solar development for two years is criminal. We need to hold the BLM administrators personally criminally responsible for crimes against humanity if this is allowed to stand.
