1. Make sure each location receives an EA and if there is an EIS, get EPA review.
2. Address: how installer is chosen for specific locations; how the sizing is determined for a specific location; how billing will be executed; how profits are distributed; and how savings will be determined for each site.
3. DO NOT allow one big business or one corporation to monopolize the market and all electrical hardware install and maintenance. Local installers need to be part of any program.
