i feel that if you close the jean area that it would hurt even our economy because there wouldnt be as many bike sales which would hurt the local and major manufacuring companies and then even farther down the road would lead to people not buying gas as well! our economy is suffering already and this wouldnt help much either. and there already isnt very many local places that are relatively close to go riding! to some people riding is there life and its not fair that you take all this land away from us because we are destroying it but yet you turn that same land into buildings and housing complexes i dont see how that works there maybe im missing something!
