I dont normaly write on these things but on this one i must say something the solar panels are a good idea but the location is wrong why use land that is being used for rec. for families when you could use land that is not useable for rec such as the test site area i have lived in las vegas all my live and i see more and more land closeures i ride in the desert and there is great beauty to be seen but with goverment closeures and home developments the area to ride is getting smaller and smaller but i really know in las vegas big money runs it and this letter does not mean a thing to you or the money behind the solar idea location but like i said earler i had to say something
